

Thumb, This Life

If we all stood up to be entirely us entirely free, how would our society survive itself eventually ? And if we all stood up today to fight the walls inside our heads, how would our society be ? We'll never see, 'cause we restrict ourselves inside our heads. We socialize ourselves until we're dead. We'll never be ourselves, and that's a fact, 'cause we just can't see ! This life to me is like a flower like a tree, you cut your roots, you think you're free.

This life you'll see, just like flower like a tree, if you cut your roots, you will no longer be!

If we all came to agree to live our lives in harmony and to defy reality how would it change our destiny inside our heads. We socialize ourselves until we're dead. We'll never be ourselves, and that's a fact, because we're so afraid !

We're born in this world to be another part of this society with no room at all for us to be what we have
