

Thunder, All I Ever Wanted

I couldn't sleep last night, listening to the sound in my head
I couldn't fight it, so I thought I'd walk the street instead,
Then it started to rain, and all the guilt and the pain just for a moment, I felt it washing away
Today was just the same, wondering when the feeling would pass,
I rearranged the room, but it didn't help me shake off the past, oh no

I can still see your face, frozen in time and in space
And I don't know, if I can take any more

'Cos all I ever wanted was you
But in a moment of weakness, I broke it in two
All i ever wanted was you
Just say you love me

I can still see your face, frozen in time and in space (Mmm)
And I don't know (I don't know), if I can take any, any more

'Cos all I ever wanted was you
But in a moment of weakness, I broke it in two
All i ever wanted was you
Just say you love me
All I ever wanted was you
I was jealous and stupid, but what can I do?
'Cos all I ever wanted was you
to say you love me
Just say you love me
Just say you love me
