

Tiffany Giardina, Falling Down

Everyday I take a step closer
Closer to the girl I wanna be
So many things I have to understand
So many questions, still need the answers
I wonder if I'll ever find them all
But I know I've just got to give it time
Whoa
Every day's changing
I'm rearranging
I'm not the girl I used to be
A new tomorrow
I've gotta let go
Of all the things I used to know
The world's spinning round and round
I can't find the end or beginning
I can't help to keep from falling down, down
I call out to make a sound
I look up, does anybody here me?
I can't help to keep from falling down, down
It's no or never, come on move on Can't wait to finally move along
To a place I know where I've never gone
Whoa
Every day's changing
I'm rearranging
I'm not the girl I used to be
A new tomorrow
I've gotta let go
Of all the things I used to know
The world's spinning round and round
I can't find the end or beginning
I can't help to keep from falling down, down
I call out to make a sound
I look up, does anybody here me?
I can't help to keep from falling down, down
Forever is, forever
Cause no one has the answer
I'm spinning, I'm trying
But can not find a way
I'm not going down
Every day's changing
I'm rearranging
I'm not the girl I used to be
A new tomorrow
I've gotta let go
Of all the things I used to know
The world's spinning round and round
I can't find the end or beginning
I can't help to keep from falling down, down
I call out to make a sound
I look up, does anybody here me?
I can't help to keep from falling down, down
I get up to keep from falling
I'm getting up to keep from falling
I get up to keep from falling down