

'Til Tuesday, David Denies

It's what he wants but he won't say
He'd rather make-believe I want to say goodbye
It's down to her although I know
She never made him happy, now she makes him cry

He cannot work, he cannot think
Beyond the guilt he has for leaving her alone
I'm going down I cannot breathe
He doesn't think to leave me anything at all

David denies that he'll ever change his mind
(but he always changes)
David denies - but he's left his love behind
(left his love behind)

It's what he wants, I'm almost sure
And I can hardly stand him saying it's not so
And so I'll wait and so I'll hope
Somehow I can convince him not to let me go

David denies that he'll ever change his mind
(but he always changes)
David denies - but he's left his love behind

David denies that he'll ever change his mind
(but he always changes)
David denies - but he's left his love behind
(left his love behind)

David denies that he'll ever change his mind
(but he always changes)
David denies - but he's left his love behind
(left his love behind)

And so I'll wait and so I'll hope
Somehow I can convince him
And so I'll wait and so I'll hope
Somehow I can convince him not to let me go
