

Tim Finn, Horizon

Sky and sea
Met in the middle of eternity
And made a riddle out of you and me
Together in the same boat
Named forever

So keep on searching for the one you love
And more than anything
Never give up
Keep your eyes on the horizon
Horizon
Horizon

Something pure
Is hard to find when you're so far from shore
And all around you is the sweet smell of corruption
And you're running out of options

Keep on searching for the one you love
And more than anything
Never give up
Keep your eyes on the horizon
Horizon
Horizon

Slowly coming into sail
Over the horizon
Someone's coming into view
Someone who loves you
They love you!
They love you!

Keep on searching for the one you love
And more than anything
Never give up
Keep your eyes on the horizon
Horizon
Horizon

They're coming to love you
They're coming straight for you
They're coming to love you
Keep your eyes on the horizon
Horizon
