

Tim James, In Walks You

You're making me feel everything

Another sunny day
And I'm here broke in LA
I pull my hat down over my eyes
Grab my shoes, run out the door
Rushing to the job I hate
And the ticket on my windshield's no surprise
God's truth is out, it's murder here
What life's about is so unclear
I want to break and when it feels I've had all I can take

Chorus:

In walks you
And you make me feel
Like everything's ok
Like everything's gonna go my way
In walks you
And you make me feel
Like everything's alright
Like everything's gonna work out fine.
You're making me feel everything..

I feel trapped in these four walls I'm living in
The bills are piling up at my door
Take a walk outside before my roommate's band starts practicing
Cause a little peace is getting hard to find
In a world where I'm outnumbered
Living in this skin I'm covered in
Is this a blessing or a curse
Cause I don't think it gets much worse

Repeat Chorus

I don't mean to sound so down
But I get a smile whenever you're around
And if this feeling I feel is right
I could use someone tonight

You're making me feel everything..
You're making me feel everything
It's you
It's you
It's you

Repeat chorus 2x
