Tina Dico, Long goodbye

Im beginning to see the signs Calling for me from in between the lines Im beginning to wonder how long Before I go under? Its a long goodbye Its a sea too deep to dive But I will do it on my own if I have to I will go there all alone Cause I must pull through I am falling in love again With the sky up above and the warm summer wind I am watching it change every day Our worlds rearrange But its a long goodbye Its a wall too high to climb But I will do it on my own if I have to I will go there all alone Cause I must break through I will do it on my own if I have to I will go there all alone Just to get to you But its a long goodbye Its a guard too strong to fight Its a long goodbye Its a sea too deep too dive...
