

Tinman Jones, Crave

I need You more than I admit or understand
To see You renew me and heal me once again
Pursue me to the end of everything I am
And teach me deplete me and keep me in Your hands

I crave You

I seek You, I'm finding out just who You are
To know You, To love You, To hold You in my heart
I want You, I'm reaching out toward You now
Come touch me, Complete me and fill my soul somehow

I'm desperate to feel You near, I close my eyes
Surround me and drown me in Your consuming fire
