To/Die/For, Sorrow Remains

When hope has faded The road goes on and on Wrong decisions made In each and every crossroads Like a living dead Deprived of all emotions Someone else instead Decides my destiny Sorrow remains It's branded into my soul Never lets me go Dreams die young within me Sorrow as company Along this narrow path I've learned to know the unknown The only friend I have Reveals it's unseen face I walk along with sorrow Each footstep echoes pain Still I want to follow Wherever it make take me