

To-Mera, Born Of Ashes

So strong is the silence
So harsh is the touch of the air
Beauty...
Can you not see the rays of the light
Shining through my eyes
My love
Is free for your heart
Do you care if it bleeds me
Do you care if it drowns me
Slowly
In a cloud blood red
Cut my wings
My strength
Oh save yourself
I need a moment
To feel your care
Save yourself
Don't let me drown into
This life
Away from the dark, afraid of the light
Shadows around... The Emptiness cries out
Into the darkness of senses to try and forget
The morning waits outside the night
Cut my skin and hurt me
Kiss me and comfort me
I want to feel reality struggle through my brain... my veins
Wondering dreaming illusions of life throughout our days
And wake up with empty eyes to pretend another day
Will bring something to live for... to live for today
Wish I'd stayed there in the dark
Wish I never crawled into the light
Wish there was enough light to fill my heart
Away from the dark, afraid of the light
Shadows around... The Emptiness cries out
Into the darkness of senses to try and forget
The morning waits outside the night
