

To-Mera, Realm Of Dreams

The night sky descends onto the mind
Leaving capricious dusk behind
In the silence of the depths the sky spins star shine above me
Bleeding white moon watches shadows cross the land
And vanish at the edge of the light
Someone will miss me when this night is over
Someone...
Bleeding white moon watches shadows cross the land
And vanish at the edge of the light
Someone will miss me when this night is over
Someone... somewhere...
Someone... somewhere...
Then it drifts away, suddenly it
Drifts away and I am left wondering
When this darkness will end
When this pain will cease to be
When can I feel life again?
Bleeding white moon watches shadows cross the land
And vanish at the edge of the light
Someone will miss me
When this night is over
Someone... somewhere...
Someone... somewhere...
