

To-Mera, The Glory Of A New Day

Could I ever lose my way?
Leave behind all that's been
Would the world seem the same?
Void of memories
Those broken moments
Never fading
Aching smiles and tears
Deep inside I feel
It's so insane, so surreal
But I know I can't forget
And I know I can't forgive
Some things just never change
Some just fade away
No matter how we want them to stay
No matter how we try to hold them
They're just gone
And we have got to keep on living
Try loving the moments while they last
Leaving dusk behind
Reborn in the brave new light of dawn
Even if every smile - every laugh
Is screaming, aching, bleeding inside
