

To My Surprise, The Worlds To Small

(I guess we dont care about much anymore)

taking myself away
straight on out of here and im gone
theres nothing left to say the worlds too small
i havent got the nerve

so i say hello
can you see me driving ive got the wind in my hair and i dont care no more coz i gotta get away
i gotta leave this place and get myself away

im so hollow
from all the sorrow tomorrow brings
are you my friend
lets comprehend to not pretend the end

so if you see me driving ill say hello
but i aint got no time to talk coz i gotta get gone and im on my way
i just left today
what you got to say

coz the worlds too small this worlds too small
and i am gone
and i am gone
im gone

hello i see you
with your life thats fallen apart you feel youre stuck you got no place to go well you could get away like me i got a car that seats three so thats me,you and my dog and my dog
