

Toad The Wet Sprocket, All Things In Time

call me up when you need strangers often deceive and there's something so freeing to call out a name and someone's believing i've been changing my mind through with looking behind it's a crash course in life the best you can do is pass by no getting out alive i'll hold a light for you to see all things in time, all you'll ever need something i can't explain keeps me running, afraid and every day
looks me in the face and says "who'd you think you were, anyway?" if you'll hold a light for me to see all things in time, all we'll ever need well, you told me so that we'd seen this all before so what is it keeps us coming back for more?
all things in time, all we'll ever need
