

Toast Freak, You're Special Today

You're Special Today

Watching closely your every move,

And listening to how you prove yourself.

And now as we fall into this trap,

Our lips are closed and eyes elapsed.

Time comes without break.

Often a smile is no more than fake.

If your mind's set, can I change it?

Or are you stuck in your ways?

Acts are deceiving.

I speak the right things,

Or so you say.

Speechless words are the only thing that might be fitting.

A look can kill your heart and leave you for quitting.

Its hard to accept I'm not what you are here for.

I am but nieve and still hoping for more.

You're special today, to me.

You're so special today.
