

Toby Keith, Lost You Anyway

Maybe you were right, Maybe I could have changed
Sittin' here alone tonight thinkin' 'bout a lot of things
What's a man to say when all the questions start
Hell I know deep down inside my broken heart

[CHORUS]

Could've tried just a little bit harder
Kissed you just a little bit sweeter
Held on just a little bit longer
Dug down just a little bit deeper
Let the world revolve around you
And give you the stars above
Loved you just enough to make you stay
And I'd lost you anyway
I hate it when it's like this, baby it's like that now
Nothing I can say to you, you even care to talk about
How you gonna dress it up, wrap it in a pretty bow
When it's gone, it's gone for good, baby at least I know

[REPEAT CHORUS]

Let the world revolve around you
And given you the stars above
Loved you just enough to make you stay
And I'd lost you anyway
