

Todd Agnew, Fullness Found

I've been walking around this world for some time
And I've found there are quite a few things to see
Physical, emotional, intellectual stimulations
But at the core I found them empty
Empty

I've been trying so many things to fill me
But every one left me wanting
And every answer left me with more questions
Every road ended empty
Empty

CHORUS

For every emptiness, a fullness may be found
For every lie there's something true
And for this broken cup that's quickly leaking water
There is a fullness found in You
Found in You

I've been working hard at what I thought was useful
But my hands are so small next to Yours
I've been trying to learn all that I thought would make me wise
But I just found vanity and lies
Until You opened my eyes
And I saw

CHORUS

For every emptiness, a fullness may be found
For every lie there's something true
And for this broken cup that's quickly leaking water
There is a fullness found in You
Found in You

I thought everything was meaningless
But now I've found that's not true
Who am I to doubt the good in things
When all goodness comes from You
From You, My God

CHORUS

For every emptiness, a fullness may be found
For every lie there's something true
And for this broken cup that's quickly leaking water
There is a fullness found in You
Found in You
