

Todd Rundgren, For A Song

What good is money unless it brings
That certain something
For the girl who's got everything
Here is an item you can't pass by
Won't even cost you one thin dime
I won't give up until you own me
Lock me up and throw away the key
Precious possession, your private property
The price is right so won't you buy me
For a song, you can have me, for a song

Just for a minute stand in my place
You'll understand what I want you to say
Give me a whisper or give a shout
Clue me in, I'll work it out

I'll never break down, I'm maintenance free
And I come with a life time guarantee
You just can't pass up this opportunity
Don't hesitate 'cause if you want me
For a song, you can have me, for a song

I belong to you (hand in hand together)
I belong to you (love in two forever)
You're the only song I need
So let your heart sing, sing for me
If you're serious then you can sample me
I'm nearly yours but you know nothing comes for free
You don't need money, you have security
I'm sure you've got one somewhere, you can keep me
For a song, you can have me, for a song
