

Tom McRae, You Will Rise

I see the city lights shine
I feel the night on me
And I stay and watch the cars drive
Their lights shine through me

Maybe soon, maybe now, when this town shakes to the ground
Maybe then you and I will rise
Maybe now, maybe soon, when the waters cover you
Maybe then you will rise

I heard that you were broken
Blue skies helped you decide
You gave yourself to the ocean
You walk into the tide

Maybe soon, maybe now, when this town shakes to the ground
Maybe then you and I will rise
Maybe now, maybe soon, when the waters cover you
Maybe then you will rise

You will rise
You will rise
You will rise
You will rise

Maybe soon, maybe now, when this town shakes to the ground
Maybe then you and I will rise
