

Tom T. Hall, I Feel Like Flying Away

I woke up this morning feeling so good feeling much better than I though I could Bluebird would you lend me your wings today I feel like flying away

I feel like flying away

Fly up to Mexico maybe to Spain I've got some good friends who live up in Maine

Fly up to Paris and sample the wine ain't that a magnificent line

Oh forgive me for saying I'd always be blue

I should have known better that sun has come through

My silver lining is turned inside out there's the sun everyone shouts

Oh I feel like flying away

(harmonica)

Fly up to Mexico maybe to Spain...

I feel like flying away
