

Tom T. Hall, I Left You Some Kisses On The Door

(I left you some kisses on the door)
Your mama says I can't see you the judge says that it's right
We can't be together cause me and mommie fights
But you're my little girl and daddy loves you more and more
And I left you some kisses on the door
I came by to see you but mommie just said no
I knocked but mommie saw me as she peeked through the hole
I only wanna hold you honey mommie thinks it's war
But I left you some kisses on the door
(guitar)
You know your daddy worries honey but it's not mama's fault
You do what your mommie says you know that she's the boss
No matter what I gave you mommie thought you needed more
But I left you some kisses on the door
Hey you're my little angel babe and it don't make much sense
To only get to watch you play through that old schoolyard fence
Someday you'll come to me sweetheart that's all I'm waitin' for Cause I left you some kisses on the door
