

Tom Waits, The Ocean Doesn't Want Me

The ocean doesn't want me today
But I'll be back tomorrow to play

The strangels will take me deep down in their brine
The mischievous brangles
Down into the endless blue wine

I'll open my head and let out all of my time

I'd love to go drowning
And to stay and to stay

But the ocean doesn't want me today

I'll go in up to here
It can't possibly hurt
All they will find is my beer and my shirt

The riptide is raging
And the lifeguard is away

But the ocean doesn't want me today

But the ocean doesn't want me today

...The ocean doesn't want me today
