

Tommy Shaw, Count On You

When I feel like the world's gone mad
And I need you so bad
But I don't know where you are
I cry these tears

On our own we've been so far
We've sworn at the moon
And we've counted a million stars
My love
Still true

Friends have come and gone
Some have left me alone
But I've stared at these walls before
And they've made me blue

All along in my heart I've known
There's one thing in my life
That still rings true
I can count on you

Count on you to be there
No questions in the air
No asking why or where
No looking back

Count on you every time
To ease my worried mind
You'll forever be important to me
My miracle find

If I had to choose one place
To spend the rest of my days
Anywhere will do
Long as it's close to you

Now oh now
We've traveled so far
Yet I'm right back where you are
Just me and you

Now and forever more
As the years go by
I'm beginning to see that I
Can count on you
