Toni Braxton, You're Makin' Me High (Remix)

Come on baby get your shoes on You look like you need a rescue Underneath the Southern moonlight Where only I can find you We can do it with our eyes closed We can sit and talk for hours Underneath the golden flowers Where my sunshine grows (chorus) sugar my love sugar my burn sugar may hide sugar may learn I could give a thousand reasons I could give a thousand lives I know I would always meet you Underneath a summer sky So come on tell me love is real Show me what I need to feel Show me that love is worth the wait Tell me I'm right Give me your love don't hesitate Show me tonight I waited so long for a love so true So I'm giving it all right back to you I'm giving you my best of silver I'm giving you my best of gold sugar may hide sugar may burn So come on baby get those shoes on And we can run away from here Talk about a life we're starting We can start it all right here Show me that love is worth the wait Tell me I'm right Give me your love don't hesitate Show me tonight
