

Tonic, Sunflower

All I want is to be your sunflower
To watch over you from up high
When the wind blows
I will kiss you like sunshine
Stealing pieces from a perfect sky
Because here you go again
Because here you go again

And they say that it really doesn't matter Anyway
That it really doesn't matter
Anyway

I'm not asking to be more than your lover I'm not asking to be more than a friend
I'm not asking anything that I shouldn't
To bring everything we know to an end
Because here you go again
Because here you go again

[CHORUS]
Cause here you go

And I wanted to be your lover
But your pushing me under cover
I wanted to be your lover
But you're pushing me down
Pushing me down
Under cover, yeah
Because here you go again

And they say that it really doesn't matter Anyway
That it really doesn't matter
Anyway
And they say that it really doesn't matter Anyway
That it really doesn't matter
Anyway
Mmmmm
