

Tony Lucca, Honestly For You

Dont throw on all that make-up for me.
There aint a single part of you I wouldnt want to see.
Ya see, make-up only makes up for whats lacking on the inside,
And you aint lacking, babe.
And dont feel you gotta dress no certain way.
There aint no statement you could make,
That could say much more than you already saysaysay.
I say I hear you babe.
I hear you when you call to me.
When youre reaching you to offer me,
The sweetest taste of Heaven.
I hear you when you shout it out-
Its love without a doubt now.
Im in your arms again.
Its been so strong for so long.
All I can do is hold on.
And take you by surprise,
When you make it home to my eyes
(Chorus)
Where no ones gonna hold you any higher than I do.
Ill lift you high, give you all the strength of wings to fly, fly, fly.
No ones gonna make it any clearer than I do-
Clearly I lovebut Honestly for you.
You dont need to read up on the latest things.
It aint no world of yours out there-the circus of magazines.
Theyre just photo opportunities,
Making you who they want you to be-
Youre so much better, babe (yes you are).
There aint much youre gonna have to do for me.
Girl, Im yours so easily. I give you all of Loves simplicity for free
Feel free. Feel free to take me, babe. Just take me baby.
Take me where tomorrow lies.
Where the white wings of the Angels fly-
Fly me high to Heaven.
Take me where you want to go cause girl you know Ill follow.
You just tell me when.
Its been so strong for so long,
All I do is hold on,
And take you for a ride.
Girl youre finally home by my side.
(Chorus)
