

TOPIC, FIND YOU (feat. Jake Reese)

When I'm looking for colors
When I'm stuck in a world of grey
There's a part of me pointing to you like a compass
Every inch of your body is like it's penciled into my brain
And I carry you around like you fit in my pocket

And nothing, and nothing they do
Could get me away from you
/2x
Cause I see you shining through

No, I don't get lost
And it's all because
I know that I'll find you
When the skies get dark
You're my Northern Star
And I know that I'll find you, find you, find you
And I know that I'll find you

I know that I'll find you

There's a place I can go to - all I need is to close my eyes
And I'm back at a time when we never got older
I can feel your lips on me, like we're still living in paradise
And you whisper in my ear like your hand's on my shoulder

And nothing, and nothing they do
Could get me away from you
/2x
Cause I see you shining through

No, I don't get lost
And it's all because
I know that I'll find you
When the skies get dark
You're my Northern Star
And I know that I'll find you, find you, find you
And I know that I'll find you

I know that I'll find you
