

Toploader, The Heat Within

If the old ways must go lets put on one last big show
It's the last chance to end our old ways
If the new days must come
Don't just get up and run
It's the last chance to end our old ways

I'm getting ready
To let the heat within me rise
To let the heat within me rise

If the old ways must go lets put on one last big show
It's the last chance to end our old ways
If the new days must come
Don't just get up and run
It's the last chance to end our old ways

This whole place has gone crazy
I bury my life in your hands
This whole world has gone crazy
I put my whole life in your hands

I'm getting ready
To let the heat within me rise
To let the heat within me rise
To let the heat within me rise
To let the heat within me rise
