

Tori Amos, Almost Rosey

Just a minute of your time,
Yes I've been known to delude myself
So let me put those rose
Colored glasses to the test

Now is this real enough for you
'cause blondes here don't jump out of cakes
If that never impressed you much
Come board this lunatic express

Just, why do they say
"Have a nice day" anyway?
We both know they wouldn't mind
If I just curled up and died
Oh, let's not give that one a try

Chin up, put on a pair of these roseys, raise those blinds
Chin up, a happy mask was never your best disguise
Chin up, put on a pair of these roseys, in no time
You will feel almost fine, almost rosey

Ah ah ah, hey hey hey

Now some girls here will huddle with
No not footballers that are rich
But will confide in small white sticks
He bats as The Virginian Slim

Then I tried once to comply
With an authority that would
Subsidize my wild side
But at this altar was sacrificed

Yes you can laugh a femme fatale
In a bride's dress now married to
The effortlessness of the cracks
That lie now in between the facts

Just, why do they say
"Have a nice day" anyway?
We both know they wouldn't mind
If I just curled up and died
Oh, let's not give that one a try

Chin up, put on a pair of these roseys, raise those blinds
Chin up, a happy mask was never your best disguise
Chin up, put on a pair of these roseys, in no time
You will feel almost fine, almost rosey

Ah ah ah, hey hey hey

Now about when violet died
The cause still unidentified
She thought her love would be enough
But you can't seduce seduction

Her tentacles of endless want
Reach through my corridors
And tempt me to taste of her power
I sober with the witching hour

And when I hear of one more bomb
Yes we have all been robbed of song
And nightingales who throw their arms up

When is enough enough?

Just, why do they say
"Have a nice day" anyway?
We both know they wouldn't mind
If I just curled up and died
Oh, let's not give that one a try

Chin up, put on a pair of these roseys, raise those blinds
Chin up, a happy mask was never your best disguise
Chin up, put on a pair of these roseys, in no time
You will feel almost fine, almost rosey

Ah ah ah, hey hey hey
Feeling almost rosey
Ah ah ah, hey hey hey
Feeling almost rosey
