Tori Amos, For Mark

She needs to sleep like the ocean She needs to dream like that boy down in the stratum Don't know what he's all about but I'm sure he knows one of the spots I need to be in this body I need to breathe I need no one but one And it's gonna be here like it never was Like it never was He's got girls on his fingers Little dough eyes making ringers ring off the phone Tell her you know what she's been thinking 'Cause I need only one, only one sugar I said you are gonna see I'm ready to be just with the one With the blue blue notions of motions
