

Tori Amos, London Girls

some people sing about deutsche girls and girls from california they might be alright for a night alright but don't trust them i warn you i've been to the east and i've been out west and i've been the world around but i ain't seen none come anywhere near the girls from london town give me a london girl every time i've got to find one

i've made up my mind
give me a london girl every time
i want a london girl

marry a girl from london town, you know you can trust her she'll darn your socks, and wash and mend you're trousers if ya bust em, yes there all good cooks and they got good looks and they wont lead you a dance 'said, i gotta find a london girl if i get a half a chance oh, give me a london girl every time

i've got to find one
i've made up my mind
give me a london girl every time
i want a london girl

london girls are the best in the world there ain't no doubt about it if ya can't find a girl from london town you're better off a-doin' without it they don't create when you come home late and you're crawlin' up the passage floor and they wont muck about, yes, when you've gone out with the geezer from the house next door

oh, give me a london girl every time
i've got to find one
i've made up my mind
i said, honey, give me a london girl, babe every little 'ol time your legs turn to jelly and i got a little smelly but i know it's just what i want 'cause i need a london girl, oh, every time they've always got a pound to buy their round when its their turn at the bar