

Tracy Bonham, 30 Seconds

For every stone, there's a rock waiting for someone's head
Here it come, and you wish you had two heads
30 seconds, 30 seconds
Sell half your soul and you realize that you are
No one, no one
No one, no one
For every star, there's another one that's fading
Fading away, hating every bit of life
30 seconds, 30 seconds
One day of sun and the rest, you're spending as a
No one, no one
No one, no one
Outta my way
Outta my way
Outta my way
Before you know, you're outta my way
Outta my way
Outta my way
For everyone, there's another one that's stronger
So out you go, like the trash that you drug in 30 seconds, 30 seconds
Paving the way for the ones that made you feel like
No one, no one
No one, no one
Outta my way
Outta my way
Outta my way
Before you know, you're outta my way
My way
Outta my way
