

Tracy Lawrence, It Only Takes One Bar

Last night she wasn't sleepin' when I came slippin in
I knew I had it comin, cause she knew where I'd been
She said "a part of me walks out that door everytime you leave
So remember this while you're losin me"
It only takes one bar to make a prison
And you've been doin' too much time away from home
She said "it takes two hearts to hold a love together
But it only takes one fool to be alone"
She said "i've sat here in the darkness, one too many times

And stealin thoughts of holdin' you has been my only crime"
Right then I realized she'd always been the key
And locked up in her arms is the only time I'm free
It only takes one bar to make a prison
And I was doin' too much time away from home
It takes two hearts to hold a love together
But it only takes one fool to be alone
It only takes one bar to make a prison
And it only takes one fool to be alone
