

Tracy Lawrence, Todays Lonely Fool

What would you say if I told you I was sorry,
And that Ive come to realize, life means nothing without you would you take my hand, would you forgive this man for ever doubting your love was true, and could you find it in your heart to let me try and make it up to you

Chorus:

Yesterdaya jealous man, today a lonely fool
I let love slip right through my hands
from all the hurt Ive handed you Ive got to stop your love from dying or Ill be living proof cause yesterday's jealous man is todays lonely fool

Darlin, from now on Ill be proud when other men notice you instead of gettin mean and loud, like I used to do find some mercy in your heart then will make anoother start, at the love that we once new I wont hurt you anymore Im gonna trust you now and never question you

Yesterday a jealous man, today a lonely fool
I let love slip right through my hands
from all the hurt Ive handed you Ive got to stop your love from dying, or Ill be living proof that yesterdays jealous man is todays lonely fool

Im todays lonely fool

todays lonely fool