

Trading Yesterday, What I'm Dreaming Of

Welcome to a new beginning
Welcome to a brand new side of me
This will be the life I'm meant to lead
More than just a midlife crisis
This will be a lighthouse in my soul
Taking me to what the future holds
I am not confined to steady ground
For fear of falling, I will fly
So I will live my life
Knowing I've got just one chance to make it right
Hope will be on my side this time
To live what I am dreaming of Tear away my fall back option
Take away the safety net below
I'm taking my chances as I go
Life is more than just survival
Love will be the thing that sets me free
Just a little faith is all I need
I am not inclined to give up now
The sky is calling, I will fly
So I will live my life
Knowing I've got just one chance to make it right
Hope will be on my side this time
And I will spend my days
Knowing that the love I give won't go away
I will not stand and wait for life to come
I will live what I am dreaming of
I will not let failure hold me down
I am not afraid of learning from what comes around
So I will live my life
Knowing I've got just one chance to make it right
Hope will be on my side this time
And I will spend my days
Knowing that the love I give won't go away
I will not stand and wait for life to come
I will live what I am dreaming of
I will live what I am dreaming of
