

Trapt, Cover Up

You must have pulled the trigger
Your eyes give you away
The gun in your hand still smoking
You don't have to take the blame
You have to do what you have to do
You know I'd never judge you
Still time to close those eyes
Forget what happened, forget you lied

(bridge)

Put the mask back on, put the mask back on
Don't take it off till everybody's gone
Put the mask back on, put the mask back on
The disguise is everlasting so long

(chorus)

Cover up, cover up
Don't let them see the real you
If your secrets can't stay silent
All those rumors might just end up being true

You're free to do what you want
You never thought of consequence
You created your own little world
Where you could always be different
A place where the rules do not apply
You could never be denied
You took advantage of a good thing
And now the void you build is empty

(bridge)

(chorus)

(2nd chorus)

Cover up, cover up
Don't question anything you do
You have always kept it quite
But your conscience haunts you every time you choose

Has anyone ever reached out to you
Has anyone ever seen your real face
Does anyone know what you've been doing
As the one we used to know fades away

(chorus)
