Trauma, A Deep Scar

There's a deep scar inside me I was hurt twenty one years ago I know the time heals scar... I know that one can forget... I know the time heals scar I know that one can forget many things But I can't I steel feel the same Deep scar Deep scar Various cases are out of control On callings for you with a desperate voice I'm falling on my knees The situation has just appeared And there's confusion in it Little pieces stick in my heart The faith's hesitating Moments of doubt are coming back to me Deep scar Deep scar The bitterness is the bread The ope died a long time ago Where are those Who took away from me?
