

Travis Scott, Drugs You Should Try It

Chase the night away
I know you're getting ready to
I know you wanna move,
I know you wanna dance
When you're home alone in the mood

I try it if it feels right
This feels nice
I've been down and lost for days
Glad I found you on the way

When the day gets better
The night gets brighter
I always feel this way
Through the hills

Chase the night away
I know you're getting ready to
I know you wanna move,
I know you wanna dance
When you're home alone in the mood

We up all night, from dawn to dusk it's always poppin'
I fell in love, fell outta love, we both had options

I played the drums, she rolled the drugs
I rocked the club, we both throw up
We was the band you never heard before

You got that tat above your crack
And on your cat, you be right back
Your momma never know

We were rollin', rollin', rollin', rollin' stones
When I'm all alone I wish you had a clone
I take that puff, you take that puff
You know we never care to overdose

I try it if it feels right (Oh)
This feels nice
I've been down and lost for days
Glad I found you on the way
When the day gets better
The night gets brighter
I always feel this way
Through the hills
I hear you callin', miles and miles away

Chase the night away
I know you're getting ready to
I know you wanna move,
I know you wanna dance
When you're home alone in the mood

Shit, I try it if it feels nice
Shit, this kinda feels nice
M-miles and miles away
Miles and miles away

When you're home alone in the mood
I know you wanna move, I know you wanna dance
I know you gettin' ready to Take the night away

When you're home alone in the mood
I know you wanna move, I know you wanna dance
I know you're gettin' ready to
Chase the night away (Ooh)

You love me, darling
