

Treble Charger, Brand New Low (Video Version)

Over and over I keep wondering why
Then I give up and see that look in your eyes
Cause if I trip and fall,
I'll be to blame
And if I hit the wall,
I'll still be the same

Cause in my mind
It's all a waste of time
And there's no excuse at all
Then I realize, surprise
You were right all along

And I want to know
Have I gone too far
Have I sunk to a brand new low
And I want to know
If I've gone too far
Cause I've lost all my self control

Guilty as charged
I've been convicted and tried
Was it too much to ask for you to take my side
Cause there's nothing here to defend
When it's always me
That you blame in the end

Cause in my mind it's the perfect crime
When there's no excuse at all and I realize
Surprise, you were right all along

And I want to know
Have I gone too far
Have I sunk to a brand new low
And I want to know
If I've gone too far
Cause I've lost all my self control

Nothing is what it seems,
To me you're sleeping without the dreams
Without you, nothing defines me
When I'm slipping away
It's only you that can find me and I'm over my head again
I'm falling from end to end

And I want to know
Have I gone too far
And I want to know
Have I gone too far
And I want to know
If I've gone too far
Cause I've lost all my self control
Cause I've lost all my self control
Now I've sunk to a brand new low

Brand new low

There's nothing to do without you
Brand new low
There's nothing here without you
Brand new low
I'm slipping away without you
Have I sunk to a brand new low.
