

Treble Charger, Scatterbrain

Reasoning is wrong
aside from anything that's rightly named Deniably insane. So lost, you're torn away
Your sympathy is strange, it's so unlike you still to be the same
Fight the urge to change and leave another day

It's not hard
It's not so complicated
To play it straight ahead it doesn't make it true

You're throwing your charm away
You turned into a scatterbrain
I don't know why, I don't know why
You're telling me it's all the same
By throwing all your charm away
Don't turn into a scatterbrain
I don't know why, I don't know why
You're telling me it's all the same
By throwing your charm away, don't turn into a scatterbrain
I don't know why, I don't know why, don't ask me why

Lately you've been hard to find You're hiding from what's left behind
You're falling into habits I don't understand Crazy as it seems, I'm not sure it's what I don't believe Afraid the day is gone before you start again
