

Tree63, Be All End All

Center of attention night and day
I just hang on every word You say
With worlds revolving 'round You silently
How come You have all this time for me?

'Cause You spend all day inside my brain
I'm overcome - hard to explain
What am I supposed to do?
I must have You

Chorus
Be All End All
Start me finish me
Be All End All

You've been walking down my street again
Now everybody wants to be my friend
Beginning and the end of everything
You're the only song I want to sing

I'm absolutely in pursuit
Of something absolutely true
And all around has come undone: You're the only one

Chorus
