

Trembling Blue Stars, Ammunition

So we'll just be the greatest couple that never were
-and I won't think we stand a chance if we never did.

If you've never been mine,
then I guess I can't be losing you:
so everything's all right
your heart's not breaking,
and I don't feel as I do.

I know you're suffering
I put trouble where there wasn't any.
I know what I've done;
You know I take your words
for use as ammunition.

But I do it because
I'm scared and searching for ways that lead to you.
And I do it because we're in love and it's obvious.

It's the rest of our lives
that's all you're making a difference to.
And it's the rest of our lives
I watch unfolding when I know I shouldn't do.
