

Trembling Blue Stars, Never Loved You More

When I'm near you my heart won't be told,
It just feels what it feels, knows what it knows.
I want to do what feels right, but you're not mine to hold.

When I'm near you my heart won't be told;
Of desire and sadness, a storm inside blows.
Those lips that I lost, I want to kiss so.

I'm so far from being over you.
I'm so far from being over you.
I still just want to be yours,
I've never loved you more.

When I'm near you my heart won't be told.
It still hurts me, the life above me you chose.
I'll miss you forever, but I guess you know.
