

Trembling Blue Stars, Tailspin

Please won't you save me from this tailspin
Please won't you bring me a bright new morning

I fear it's getting so late
Come on and show your face
Come on and show your face
Whoever you are
Whoever you are

It's another kind of falling that I want
It's another kind of falling that I want

The shore is slowly disappearing
Out even further, I keep drifting

I want to drown but I want to drown in love
I want to drown but I want to drown in love
