

Tremolo, You Were Born For This

I see you not like you do

Not the part but the whole

Stage lights on now take your cue

Why so scared of your shadow

Prisoner of your own life

Sleeping on your star of gold

You were born for this

You were born for this

C'mon light it up it's your life you don't want to miss

You don't want to miss you

You don't want to miss you

No one else can play your part

Liberate all of your dreams

Speak the lines within your heart

Don't believe in the rules

Don't believe in the stars

I believe you were made for your life

yes you are alright
