

Trentemoller, Moan

Thinking about you
Constantly thinking about you
Thinking about you

I've been thinking too much about you
See the sunset with no sleep at all
Constantly thinking about you
And I can't get through this at all

Thinking about you
Thinking about you

I've been thinking too much about you
I've been staring at the floor
I've listened to all the tunes that I love
But made me feel quite blue

I've been thinking too much about you
See the sunset with no sleep at all
Constantly thinking about you
And I can't get through this at all

Thinking about you

Thinking too much about you
See the sunset with no sleep at all
And I'm constantly thinking about you
And I can't get through this at all

Constantly thinking about you
Constantly thinking about you
And I can't get through this at all
