Trespassers William, Broken

I'm broken And you didn't notice How is that i'm all pieces Can you sum up in one sentence All that you feel for me Juggle my tears With my fierce questions I'm broken can you fix this Broke i'm broken I'm worn out given what i had You just sip from your own glass I can't be without you a moment Without fearing you won't come back Juggle my tears with my sharp pieces I'm broken can you fix this Broke i'm broken Is your girl of glass something that never mends Or is she a puzzle that fell That we could mend again
