

Trespassers William, Matching Weight

Tonight

We don't have a lot to go on

But that's not how it lives in my head

No, not at all

Blind times

Thought we were matching weight

We pulled

Sometimes it was you and sometimes it was me

But where are we

You say "don't take it all so hard for now

There's so much space

And there will always be later for that"