Tricky, Aftermath

For one [more poor boy?], there's someone

For he for she

For one [more poor boy?], there's someone

For him, for me

Your eyes resemble mine, see as no others can

Here inherit my kingdom , speak other people's plan

I'll be here for my baby, for my baby I'll be near

So many things I need to tell you, things you need to hear

So this is the aftermath

Your eyes resemble mine, you see as no others can

Here inherit my kingdom, speak other people's plan

I'll be here for my baby, for my baby I'll be near

So many things I need to tell you

For one [more poor boy?], there's someone

For he, for she

For one [more poor boy?], there's someone

For him, for me

Let me tell you about my mother*

For one more...

Your eyes resemble mine...

How can I be sure

In a world that's constantly changing

How can I be sure

Just when I thought I was winning

Just when I thought I could not be stopped

Just when I thought I was winning

Just when I thought I could not be stopped

how can I be sure
