

Tripping Daisy, Miles Of Pain

Today is just a day like any other day
You can't do this you can't do that
Why don't you give it up my son
But I've got eyes that see a life
That's good for me
My mind explodes it makes me grow
And it gives me
Something new but he keeps saying...
You need me when your life was down
You need me when your life begun
You need me when your life was down
You need me when your life begun!!
Miles and miles of pain my heart is
Broken once again I'm coming home
Miles and miles of pain my heart is
Broken once again I'm coming home

It seems the time is right for now
I think I will stop and turn around

I hear the phone it rings
He says all you do is sleep
Ooh he makes shiver when i'm Thinking back

But I stand tall you see
Chasing my world of dreams
My vision is clear I have no fear of
All the things that make me happy
But he keeps saying...

It seems the time is right for now
I don't have to stop after all
